

OpenText Active Invoices with Compliance

Meet your needs

Maintain compliance

Simplify automation

In much of the world, sending and receiving invoices electronically requires compliance with government regulations, and increasingly, these regulations are becoming mandatory both for business to government (B2G) and business to business (B2B) invoice transactions often requiring invoices to be submitted directly to the tax authority or a government approved portal/agent before they can be sent to customers.

Businesses are required to submit invoices to a government approved portal/agent before they can be sent to customers.
